

LL 4271

TUCK'S POST CARD.

CARTE POSTALE

POSTKARTE.

The Battle of Trafalgar was fought October 21st 1805. Nelson with 31 ships attacked a combined French and Spanish Fleet of 40 ships and gained a victory of undying lustre, glorious in the annals of the British Navy. As the English ships bore down to the attack, from the mast head of the "Victory", Nelson's Flagship, fluttered the famous signal: "England expects every man to do his Duty". E'er the Battle ceased, Nelson was shot and died within three hours of receiving his mortal wound.

(FOR ADDRESS ONLY.)

To dear Dugie from your friend
Rora

CTPA 12.9

Printed in England

